

POLITICS / CURRENT AFFAIRS

AMNESTY AFTER ATROCITY?
Healing Nations After Genocide and War Crimes
Helena Cobban

"In this profoundly disturbing book, Helena Cobban confronts us inescapably with the way the Western world has closed its ears to the tragedy of Africa. There is a way to redeem ourselves, and that is the theme of much of Amnesty After Atrocity?"

—Daniel Schorr, Senior News Analyst, National Public Radio

"Helena Cobban makes a very important contribution to the growing debate over the wisdom of pursuing retribution versus reconciliation where mass violations of human rights have taken place. Her conclusions may not sit well with everyone engaged in this debate, but everyone should read this book to understand the experience of those countries that have gone through this process and that have informed her careful judgment."

—Princeton N. Lyman, Council on Foreign Relations

"A powerful reminder that dealing with the legacy of wartime atrocities is not simply a matter of bringing perpetrators to justice. It also means overcoming the divisions within the society and healing the victims. International tribunals do not provide the entire answer."

—Marina Ottaway, Carnegie Endowment for International Peace

"Helena Cobban is a veteran journalist who has covered transitional justice in many countries. Her views have always been marked by independence and a questioning of commonly accepted approaches. Her first person accounts make this book compelling reading."

—Richard J. Goldstone, former Chief Prosecutor of the UN tribunals for the former Yugoslavia and Rwanda and former Justice of the Constitutional Court of South Africa

"Helena Cobban is a gifted writer who brings the frontlines of violence and peacebuilding to life in research that is as moving as it is insightful. Her book is a courageous journey into the pressing problems and creative solutions facing nations struggling to move beyond war—an illuminating lesson for everyone whose country is affected by war today."

—Carolyn Nordstrom, University of Notre Dame

"Amnesty After Atrocity? is an important and timely contribution that should merit the attention of all those concerned with response to the tragedies of genocide and war crimes around the world."

—Francis M. Deng, former Sudanese Ambassador to the United States

Helena Cobban is a columnist for the Christian Science Monitor and a contributing writer at the Boston Review. She has also written several books, including The Moral Architecture of World Peace (University of Virginia Press 2000), The Superpowers and the Syrian-Israeli Conflict (Praeger Publishers 1991) and The Making of Modern Lebanon (Hutchinson 1985).

ISBN-13: 978-1-59451-317-6
ISBN-10: 1-59451-317-1

Cover Artwork: "O Aberto" by Malangatana,
Constitutional Court of South Africa Artworks Collection
Cover Design: www.thanasisgounaris.com

Paradigm Publishers
3360 Mitchell Lane
Boulder, CO 80301
U.S.A.
www.paradigmpublishers.com

Paradigm

COBBAN

AMNESTY AFTER ATROCITY?

AMNESTY AFTER ATROCITY?

Healing Nations after Genocide and War Crimes

HELENA COBBAN

Amnesty after Atrocity?

Healing Nations After Genocide and War Crimes

Helena Cobban

COBBAN

Amnesty after Atrocity?

HEALING NATIONS AFTER GENOCIDE AND WAR CRIMES

PARADIGM